Dear Mr. Hinton,

The Arbitration Certification Program (ACP) received your above-referenced complaint on May 9, 2025.

The ACP certifies and monitors new vehicle arbitration programs that resolve warranty disputes between consumers and manufacturers to ensure compliance with state and federal requirements.

Please note that ACP cannot order a program to re-open or re-hear a dispute, nor does it have authority to change, modify, clarify, or overturn a decision by an arbitration program. While ACP does investigate individual complaints, its purpose is to enable ACP to obtain the information necessary to perform its role as a certifying and decertifying agency.

ACP is reviewing this matter to determine whether there has been a violation of the minimum standards by the manufacturer or the arbitration program. ACP always invites the submission of any new and additional information surrounding a complaint.

If you have any questions, please contact us at (916) 574-7350 or by email at ACPTeam@dca.ca.gov

Sincerely,

ACP
